

Overview

St Andrew's Talk About Youth Project is based in St Andrew's Resource Centre in Pearse street, in Dublin's South East Inner city. We were established in 1994 and support young people aged 10 to 24 years of age, who engage with us voluntarily and who choose to take part in a whole range of youth work programmes and projects which enable them to reach their fullest potential, have their voices heard and enhance their personal and social development.

We endeavour to build positive working relationships with young people in safe, welcoming and non-judgemental spaces.

Our work is led by the young people at all times and includes Health Promotion, International Exchanges, Youth Arts, Gaisce, Leadership Training, Sports and Outdoor Education, LGBT+ an Interculturalism.
