

Overview

The Foróige, Portlaoise UBU Youth Service is a dynamic, flexible, innovative, responsive and inclusive service that enables young people at risk of, or, not in education, training or employment, to overcome adversity and reach their full potential. The primary target group for this service are aged 10 to 19.

The interventions and programmes provided are needs led, evidence informed, outcomes focused and are educational in nature, developmentally and culturally appropriate, fun, creative, innovative and engaging. Activities are carried out both in one to one and group settings, depending on the needs and interests of the young people. These interventions are designed to improve the knowledge, skills, behaviour, attitudes and circumstances of young people with a view to reducing their likelihood of early school leaving, increasing their educational attainment and improving their employability.

The Portlaoise UBU Youth Service is funded by the Department of Children, Equality, Disability, Integration and Youth. It is a UBU compliant service supported by Laois Offaly Education and Training Board (LOETB).
