

Overview:

The Youth Work Ireland Galway CAPE and shOUT! Youth Projects provide a safe space for young people who need opportunities to socialise with like-minded peers, to explore their identities and to develop their social and personal skills.

The Youth Workers also empower young people to engage in community activism and youth democracy programmes to promote youth participation in society fostering a sense of purpose and belonging.

The projects operate from an ethos of Social Inclusion. Both services work closely with other agencies to ensure participants gain access to other supports as needed. The services are open to young people from both the City and County.
