Overview

The Bagenalstown & South Carlow UBU Youth Project will be based in Gleann na Bhearu Youth and Community Centre, with outreach to Borris. This youth Project will provide youth work programmes and opportunities to enhance the social and personal development of young people, outside of school hours. The project will be open to young people age 10-18 from the target area. The main target groups for the project are as follows:

1. Young people (10-18 years) who are vulnerable or at risk of not flourishing due to poor mental wellbeing
2. Young people (10-18 years) experiencing economic, social and cultural disadvantage living in areas of high deprivation
3. Young people (10-18 years) who are vulnerable or at risk of not flourishing due to rural isolation
4. Young people (10-18 years) experiencing economic, social and cultural disadvantage particularly those with a greater risk of low educational attainment
